Clean*	EUR 999.2 mn	+0.8%

Segment Austria

- > 1.1% clean revenue growth excl. EUR 28.2 mn negative extraordinary effect in Q2 2014
- > 37.0% higher equipment revenues due to lower SRCs
- > Improvement of mobile subscriber trends: -2.5% yoy in 2Q 2015 vs. -4.8% yoy in Q1 2015

- > ARPU rel. revenues fell due to IC, roaming and subs
- > Fixed line: Churn following price increase in line with expectations; service revenues stable incl. Data & ICT

International Segments

- > Bulgaria: Higher wholesale revenues only partly mitigate negative pricing trends in business segments
- > Croatia: Fixed service revenue growth (strong access line trends) could not offset negative effects of MTR cuts and lower equipment revenues due to lower quantities of handsets sold
- > Belarus: Local currency growth of 21.6% but EUR 14.5 mn FX translation effects
- > Additional Markets: Competition and handset accounting hurt Slovenia and Serbia respectively; blizoo benefits Macedonia

* Excluding negative extraordinary effects of EUR 28.2 mn in Austria in Q2 2014 and negative FX effects of EUR 16.4 mn

 As of Q1 2015 the calculation of ARPU excludes value-added services

Group EBITDA comparable grows 2.2% on a clean basis*

- > Croatia: Tripled frequency fees from June 2014 burden margins
- > Belarus: OPEX increased 17.7% in local currency due to higher maintenance and repair as well material expenses; EUR 7.5 mn negative FX effects
- > 2.9% OPEX growth due to Serbia (roaming) and Macedonia (blizoo); reduction in Slovenia (lower IC costs)

Free cash flow	110.8	-3.4	n.m.	264.0	48.5	n.m.

Year-to-date analysis

- > Gross cash flow rises year-on-year due to EUR 20 mn cash-relevant one-off effect in Slovenia in Q1 2015
- > In H1 2015 working capital needs remained limited and were predominantly driven by restructuring payments for civil servants in Austria as well as a reduction in accounts payable
- > CAPEX declined year-on-year due to spectrum acquisitions in Bulgaria and Slovenia in H1 2014

Focus points

Revenue outlook adjusted mainly due to FX and worse-than-expected momentum in CEE

- > Increased competitive challenges in Austrian mobile market, but counter measures keep downside to a minimum
- > Ban in price increases prohibits offsetting of BYR devaluation (-5.9% in Q2 2015 and -15.3% in H1 2015)
- > Lack of visible macroeconomic improvements in CEE burdens demand and intensifies effects of continued price pressure

Austria: Price pressure in no-frills segment as a result of new MVNOs, counter measures in place

- > MVNO launches:
 - > UPC in Dec 2014
 - > HoT in Jan 2015
 - > Mass response (Spusu) in June 2015

- > Counter measures implemented:
 - > Tariff adjustments in no-frills segments
 - > More content (e.g. data allowance)
 - > Higher subsidies for acquisition in premium segments
